ANGEL VENTURES

Mexico City, on October 28, 2022

Dear Startup Ecosystem:

We are excited to share our first CDMX Entrepreneur/Investor Guide!

The Angel Ventures Team has been building up on Charlie's first draft, which he thoughtfully put in place for when his friends were visiting the City. Given the countless times we have now been asked for recommendations, a notion of the city and its distances, or where to eat on a shoestring, this is with what we have come up so far.

Needless to say for AV, this is our city, our home base, and we love it to every last inch. We are very proud to present it to the world and we hope you get to feel it, live it, eat it, party it, and overall enjoy it.

We plan to update it every few months, so please tweet or send us feedback on the places we might be missing. Send it to your colleagues, friends, portfolio companies, and VCs, and spread the good word on a world-class city that is ready to welcome all of you.

Lots of love,

Hernan, Camilo and the AV Team

TRAVEL GUIDE

MUSEUMS

A colourful and incredible country, it should come as no surprise that Mexico is rich in cultural spaces where visitors can experience and interact with art of every genre and from every time period.

Suffice it to say, no trip to Mexico would be complete without visiting at least one of its incredible museums that are absolutely worth seeing.

MUSEUMS

The Soumaya

The Soumaya Museum has a unique modern architecture. The museum's collection includes Mexican art from the 19th and 20th centuries and an extensive collection of old masters of modern Western art such as Rodin & Dalí.

Address: Plaza Carso: Blvd. Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, Granada, Miguel Hidalgo, 11529

Jumex

The Jumex Museum, one of the newest in the city. If you are a lover of Latin American art collections, you have to visit it.

Address: Blvd. Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra #303, Col. Ampliación Granada.

Muac (contemporary Art)

One of the great distinctive things about this museum is that it is set in the volcanic landscape of the Pedregal de San Ángel. It also has a restaurant with a contemporary architectural space. The architect Teodoro González de León is also recognized by the Rufino Tamayo Museum & for co-designing the National Auditorium.

Address: Insurgentes Sur #3000, Col. Ciudad Universitaria.

Chapultepec Castle

The historic Chapultepec Castle, built in 1785, is one of the city's premier museums. Besides its impressive architecture, it has been of vital importance in the country's history. As one of the highest points in the city, it's the most important scenic overlook in the metropolis.

Address: Bosque de Chapultepec I Secc, CDMX

Museum of Anthropology

This museum is the most visited in all of Mexico, a must-see for visitors from all over the world. The style of the architecture of this museum refers to the open forums of the Mayan ceremonial centers, referring to pre-Hispanic symbols.

Address: Av. Paseo de la Reforma s/n, Polanco, Bosque de Chapultepec

MUSEUMS

Rufino Tamayo

This is the first museum built with private funds. It usually houses some of the most important contemporary art exhibitions to be seen in the city. You can also find works collected by its founder, artist Rufino Tamayo.

Address: Av. Paseo de la Reforma 51, Polanco, Bosque de Chapultepec I Secc, Miguel Hidalgo, 11580 Ciudad de México, CDMX

Memory & Tolerance

In Mexico City's central alameda, this is a museum that aims to open your eyes to empathy. It focuses on the consequences of indifference, discrimination, and violence throughout the history of humanity, and is an important icon to the cultural offerings of the city.

Address: Av. Juárez 8, Colonia Centro

Palacio de Bellas Artes

This is one of the most outstanding buildings in the country and has been for decades. It has a museum inside and is the headquarters of the National Theater Company. It has a lot to see and learn.

Address: Av. Juárez S/N, Centro Histórico de la Ciudad de México

Banco de México

This museum is located inside of main building of the Banco de México. You will learn step by step about the functions of the country's central bank and much more.

*Free entrance with a reservation*

Address: Av. 5 de Mayo, #2 Centro Histórico

Munal

This museum has an impressive neoclassical building that was founded in 1982 and focuses on the exhibition, study, and dissemination of Mexican and international art. Its permanent collection contains more than 3,000 works.

Address: Calle de Tacuba 8, Centro Histórico de la Ciudad de México, CDMX.

MUSEUMS

Mural Diego Rivera

This museum often goes unnoticed among the many world-class museums in Mexico City. Here is the mural Sueño de una tarde dominical en la Alameda Central. It also has work from the 20th century, and has exhibited photography, painting, graphics, and sculptures.

Address: Balderas S/N, Colonia Centro, Centro.

Frida Kahlo Casa Azul

The famous Casa Azul competes every year with the National Museum of Anthropology for the title of “most visited museum” in Mexico City. The property belonged to the Kahlo family since 1904 and four years after the Frida’s death, it became a museum. This place was a meeting point for many of the outstanding personalities who met with Diego Rivera and Frida Kahlo.

Address: Londres #247, Col. Coyoacán, Ciudad de México

Trick Eye

Trick Eye is a museum that, thanks to its 3D Art, makes two-dimensional images look like three-dimensional ones, creating an optical illusion. It is the first museum in the world that applies Augmented Reality technology on 3D Art.

Address: Av. Ejército Nacional Mexicano 843-B, Granada, Miguel Hidalgo

Templo Mayor

Next to the Metropolitan Cathedral you can find this is museum of Aztec ruins and Aztec history in the Zócalo.

Address: Seminario 8, Centro Histórico de la CDMX

Zocalo Mexico City

The Zócalo is Mexico City’s main square. It includes the National Palace (a government building) and the Metropolitan Cathedral, symbol of the city, which is free to enter.

You can also have a drink at the “Balcón del Zócalo” or in “El Gran Hotel de la Ciudad de México).

Address: Plaza de la Constitución S/N, Centro Histórico de la CDMX

MOBILITY

Mexico City has one of the cheapest metros on earth and such a wealth of lines, routes and stops that you can easily get anywhere in the city as well as other transportation options. Here's a user's guide to Mexico City's transport.

MOBILITY

Mexico City is enormous and has terrible traffic. Fortunately, it's a city with a lot of mobility options. To facilitate your public transport experience, we recommend downloading the official Integrated mobility map of Mexico City: <https://semovi.cdmx.gob.mx/movilidad-integrada/mi-mapa>

Ecobici

You can choose the bike rental plan that suits you the most, from one day, three, seven days or a year. For more information about the rates:

<https://ecobici.cdmx.gob.mx/planes-y-tarifas/>

Dezba

A Mexican micro mobility company for shared electric bike rental in Mexico. For more information: linktr.ee/dezbamx

Metro CDMX

This is the principal mobility option in Mexico City. It has 12 service lines that run through different points of the city from Monday to Friday from 5:00 am to 12:00 am, Saturdays from 6:00 am to 12:00 am, Sundays and holidays from 7:00 am to 12:00 am.

Currently, the cost of the ticket per trip is $5.00 MXN. The service also allows you to purchase a prepaid mobility card valid for use on the metro, metrobus, and ecobici on which you can charge the balance at the corresponding ticket offices or machines in the metro facilities.

It is important to mention that the first carriages are usually intended for women and children during the most congested hours.

For more information: <http://www.metro.cdmx.gob.mx/>

Mobile Apps

You can request a taxi to take you to your destination from your exact location. Some of these applications are:

- Uber
- Didi
- Beat
- Cabify

Urbvan City & Urban Travel

This is a 100% Mexican company of private, safe, and comfortable shared transport that has several routes in Mexico City and has destinations for some states of the country.

For more information: <https://urbvan.com/>

Bus Stations

To travel outside the city and the State of Mexico, there are four bus stations that you can use:

Terminal Central de Autobuses del Norte

Eje Central Lázaro Cárdenas 271, Magdalena de las Salinas,
Gustavo A. Madero

Terminal Central de Autobuses del Sur

Avenida Miguel Ángel de Quevedo 1105 El rosedal, Atlántida,
Coyoacán

Terminal Central de Autobuses de Oriente TAPO

Calz. Ignacio Zaragoza 200, 10 de Mayo, Venustiano Carranza

Terminal Central de Autobuses del Poniente

Av Río de Tacubaya, José María Pino Suárez, Álvaro Obregón

For more information about the bus companies and the different destinations in the country: <https://transportamex.com/>

Rent a car

Mexico City also has many options of companies to rent a car per day, week, or month. The most well-known companies are Hertz, Europcar or Avis. Don't forget to check the "Hoy no Circula" program in case of renting a car.

IN CASE OF AN EARTHQUAKE

Mexico is in a seismic zone. To track real-time updates, you can check out the official Twitter account of the National Seismological Service (@SSNMexico)

In the event of an earthquake, the authorities recommend:

Before the earthquake...

- Locate the evacuation routes of the buildings you visit. These are marked with signs in green color.
- Prepare and simulate, together with your family, the evacuation of your hotel, locating lower risk areas where they can take shelter in case they cannot leave.
- Pack an emergency backpack and keep it in an easily accessible place. It should contain:
  - A USB with your most important digitized documents (residence cards, passport, rental contract or proof of ownership, medical insurance, birth certificates).
  - Medicines in case of having any chronic illness.
  - A first-aid kit
- Prepare a plan with your family or companions to agree on a meeting point in case you lose communication.

After the earthquake...

- In case an earthquake of strong magnitude is identified, a seismic alert will sound a few seconds before the movement is perceived.
- Follow the instructions of the authorities or follow the evacuation route you previously located. If you can't get out, go to the lowest risk area, which is also marked on the buildings.
- In case of having affectations, report them as soon as possible to the emergency telephones or seek help immediately.

General Tips

- Use safe transportation and avoid lonely places.
- If you get lost, stay calm and ask a nearby police officer or someone inside established shops about the destination you are going to. Mexico City has open internet at many points. You can connect to it, or we recommend downloading your map on Google Maps before leaving your hotel.
- Tips in restaurants and establishments: In Mexico City, it's common to leave between 10% and 15% of the cost of the service received in restaurants and food services in general. With packers in the supermarket or staff at gas stations, the most usual is to leave a tip of 10 to 12 pesos.
